Folks,

Wow, we hit a new gear today, now Online chat sessions are available on <http://www.dwhnotes.com> at the right side corner of the page. Here any one can participate on these chat sessions while browsing the stuff on the site and share your thoughts/ ideas/ views/ issues to discuss on technical related topics with the other forum members. I believe this would be the great way to meet forum members/followers and learning new things by interacting with them while surfing the information. Turn on your chat session and let's have a healthy technical group discussions.

How do I sign-on?

Well, you can login using your facebook, twitter credentials or you can setup a new login id/pwd using Envolve perhaps you do not have any account in social networking sites.

Meet & chat with new people online – see who's waiting to chat with you!
